LANDSCAPE PHOTOGRAPHY TUITION

Small groups and individual classes

By Nick Lukey

Would you like to learn how to get the best out of your digital camera, shooting some of the Peak District's finest scenery?

I run weekend and selective midweek courses. Available to small groups and on an individual 1-2-1 basis. Covering the principle elements of landscape photography, you will be shown how to appreciate light, exposure, and composition, using your camera and understanding how these individual components work in relation to the capture of great images.

The photography days are ideally suited to those who are making their first steps in photography. Don't worry if you do not have the latest and greatest in cameras or lenses. This is about photography, not photo gear.

Ideally your camera will have a wide angle lens, and a telephoto. Either as a fixed wide to tele zoom, or individual lenses. Also handy (but not essential) to have a tripod, as well as a remote cord for taking timed exposures.

Some of the places we shoot will require some walking, so appropriate shoes and clothing will be required, especially if the weather is a little damp.

The photography tuition days will be starting from mid-September onwards, with either an early start or late finish to enable you to make the best of the light during the autumn and winter months.

Once your day is booked I will provide an itinerary of the day, but please allow some flexibility due to weather.

Please note the prices are for photography tuition only and does not include accommodation, food, drinks or any insurance whatsoever

Prices

Group Day (max 3)	£75.00 each
1-2-1 Day	£125.00

Booking payable by a non-refundable deposit of £50.00. Bad weather on the day, we will reschedule.
